COMMENTS

FIEWS BYSENATORS AND CONGRESS-MEN ON THE MESSAGE.

Ex-Speaker Crisp Opposed to the Retirement of Greenbacks as is A so Senator Voorhees-General Wheeler Thinks the Foreign Policy Will Meet the Approval of the People

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3 .- The folmembers of the house on the message:

Ex-Speaker Crisp said: "I heard with That relief is needed no one doubts. That it can be found in the direction indicated I do not believe. The president makes as strong an argument as can be made in favor of the single endeavor to have the greenbacks retirgold standard, but I do not think fairly states the case. I am opposed to the retirement of the greenbacks. Neither can I approve the propositions recommended to enlarge the privileges of the national banks. I have no doubt the president honestly believes he is right and I know I as honestly believe he is

Mr. Morse, rep., of Massachusetts, said: "What the president says about wool and the tariff shows, that 'like Ephraim, he is joined to his idols.' The position taken by the president is in way sustained by the facts. The woolen manufacturers of New England and the country are greatly injured under existing tariff from the fact that the country is being flooded with cheap shoddy, which is taking the place of American products.

The president's discussion of foreign affairs and so much as I could gather as to emigration, from the reading, seems to be wise and patriotic. It is, however, remarkable that there is not a word in this long message about increasing the revenue-the great ques-

Mr. Dingley, rep., of Maine, said: "The most astonishing feature of the message was the fact that it entirely omitted to inform congress whether there was or was not a necessity of providing more revenue. This was an omission the more amazing in the face of the fact that for twenty-nine months there had been a deficiency of revenue The president's reference to the protective policy under which the country prospered so signally from 1861 to 1893 'designed for the protection and benefit of favored classes at the ex-pense of the great mass of our countrymen' and as one 'inefficient for the purpose of revenue' is a singular disregard of the fact that during the revenue was always in excess of peace expenditures and the masses of people of the country were never before so prosperous. The effort of the president to divert attention from the real causes of the financial stress by changing the responsibility on the presence of the greenback in our country."

Mr. Boutelle, rep., of Maine, said that as relating to the financial situation was to be found in the president's refusal to recognize the question of revenue as a material factor. His indifference to the relations between our income and our expenditures was as pronounced as his theory that we could become more prosperous by borrowing money on interest bearing bonds than by raising revenue at the expense of foreign competitors with our own wageearners. The issue raised by the presitient was fundamental, but it was the same Issue between promoting American and foreign prosperity that was raised in the election of 1894 and 1895 and decided by tremendous majorities in favor of the American policy under which the United States became the greatest manufacturing country and the richest in the world.

Mr. Payne, rep., of New York, said: "The president in his effort to justify the policy of his party fails in a proper diagnosis of the case. He endeavors to put the blame of the entire situation on the greenback and treasury notes. The remedy must be largely an increase of revenue. The exchange of greenbacks for national bank currency would not answer the purpose, because the government must still redeem the national bank notes. Under former tariffs the balance of trade was generally in our favor and the demand for gold was small.

Mr. Grosvenor, rep., of Ohio, said that when the president refers to the great benefits our new tariff act has done to the sheepmen of the Argentine country he seems to be rejoicing over the ruin of more than a million sheep raisers in this country, and he forgets that side by side with cheaper wool comes the product of foreign looms striking deadly blows at the labor of a host of Amertcan workers." Mr. McCreary, dem., of Kentucky chairman of the committee on foreign affairs in the last house, expressed approval of the president's views and rec-General Wheeler, dem., of Alabama, said: "I think the president's statement regarding the foreign policy will meet the approval of the people. I regret that I cannot assent to Mr. Cleveland's financial recommendations. Mr. Cannon, rep., of Illinois, criticised the president for omitting all reference in detail to government receipts and expenditures. He said that the message was most unsatisfactory also in its discussion of our foreign relations and commerce. From the tenor of the whole message it was patent that in the president's judgment no legislation increasing the revenues was needed or avould receive his approval. Senator Allison said: "The message seems to be incomplete and is lacking in suggestions pertinent at this time. With our revenues woefully short of the requirements, there is not a word about increasing those revenues." the committee on finance, said: "The | passage of the Dardanelles,

OF MEMBERS message is repugnant to everything that I have held to on the financial subject through life, and for one I will not ote to repeal the greenback."

President Cleveland sent a letter praising the bra. very of Captain Enright.

Texas Leaves New York.

New York, Dec. 3 .- After a long delay the second-class battleship Texas steamed away from the New York navy yard at 2:30 this afternoon and pro ceeded down the Narrows, anchoring off Tompkinsville, S. I., to wait orders from Washington for a trial of the ship's engines. To all outward appearances the battleship suffered but little while in dry dock, but a thorough test of her structural strength will shortly be made at Gardner's Bay, where her heavy guns will be tried.

TOWN AND CITY TICKETS WERE BOTH ELECTED YESTERDAY.

Wards-Court of Common Council Safely Republican-Democrats Only Save Anthony, Brethauer and Stoddard-Second Ward City . cturus Incomplete.

The city and town election yesterday was one of the most closely contested and exciting at the finish of any election held here in many years. Proests were received from every ward in the city on the part of both the republican and democratic counters at the several polling places, and were filed with the moderator of the First ward, W. J. Mills, when the returns were turned in there.

The protests were made by both paries on the ground that the ballots were not in accordance with the law. On the face of the returns the republians elect Town Agent Baldwin and Se lectmen Stahl, Ludington and Beecher while the democrats will again have to content themselves with a minority rep resentation for the coming year.

The democrats succeed in electing Francis G. Anthony tax collector, Fredcountry never enjoyed a better season erick H. Brethauer town clerk and Ezekiel G. Stoddard city treasurer, while republican candidate, Charles S Mersick, was elected town treasurer, The republicans also elect three mempers of the board of relief and a major ity of the town constables. It also ooks as though Preston had beater Carr for registrar by 13 votes.

The Good Government club did not out much of a figure in the result of the contests, though its candidate for colice commissioner, Joseph Porter, succeeded in polling about 2,000 votes. John Clancey, dem., and Louis M. Ullman, ep., were, however, both elected by nandsome majorities.

In the Second ward there was more a contest over counting the votes than there was in polling them. At 2 Scattering o'clock this morning the returns had No. ballots counted, 32 not been made to the moderator of the First ward and the indications were that they would not be received during the night, as at that hour the counters in the ward were quietly sitting around the supply house, each side refusing to sign the returns on account of protests as to the legality of certain ballots. John Trace, the moderator of the ward, threw out all the republican city balots on the ground that they were illegal because they had on them no candidate for city collector of taxes and also because they contained the words 'member of the board of public works" instead of "commissioner of the board of public works." The counters there spon refused to sign the returns. At a late hour the republican and democratic registrars of voters were called to the supply house to settle the difficulty, but their efforts were futile and neither side would give in. The court of common council next year will still be republican, the board of aldermen standing 16 republicans to 8 democrats, and the councilmen 18 to 18. This is assuming that the republican ward officers from the Second ward will be declared elected, having received the majority of the votes cast in the ward. The political complexion of the incoming court of common council insures the election of a republican assistant city clerk and sealer of weights and measures.

The returns as given in the tables are complete with the exception of the city ticket from the Second ward, which is Washington, Dec. 3.-The president to-day nominated Rufus W. Peckham Andrew Coolohan, d*, of New York to be associate justice of Scattering, the United States supreme court to succeed the late Howell E. Jackson of Tennesse. He also nominated Richard George W. Bromley, do, Olney to be secretary of state and Judson Harmon, attorney general.

Rufus W. Peckham is a resident of Albany and judge of the court of appeals of New York. The nomination will go first to the senate judiciary committee, which always scrutinizes closely the record of persons named for the supreme court bench, but in view of the high reputation of Judge Peckham, it is believed confirmation will follow as speedily as consistent with the importance of the office. 287 HOT CONTESTS AND BOLTS

TWENTY CITIES AND TOWNS IN MASSACHUSETTS HOLD ELECTIONS.

In Many Cities the American Protective Association Was an Important Factor-Large Number of Republicans Bolted

Boston, Dec. 3.-Twenty of the thirty-one cities in the commonwealth held their municipal elections to-day. In many cities, notably Somerville, Brockton, Gloucester, Lynn, Waltham, Quincy and Fitchburg, the A. P. A. was a prominent factor in the election 715 and by its formal nomination of certain candidates and open support of others caused in many instances hot local contests and bolts in the republican ranks. In Quincy, Hammond, the republican candidate, endorsed by the A. P. A., was defeated by Charles Francis Adams, 2d, democrat, by 179 votes, although the city council is republican. In Gloucester the A. P. A. candidate for mayor was elected by a substantial majority. Semerville, which until within a year has known no party lines, has been greatly stirred up this year, owing to the endorsement of Davis, the regular republican nominee, by the A.

P. A., which resulted in a large number of republicans bolting the nomina-tion and nominating Albion A. Perry, as a anti-A. P. A. candidate. Mr. Perry had the support of the democrats. In Fitchburg the fight was really between the temperance and citizens' factions, and as the former candidate was supported by the A. P. A. many republicans voted the opposing ticket, resulting in its election with Mayor Rockwell at its head. The city government is republican. In Taunton, Morris was elected mayor by republican votes over Hawkins, republican, owing to the former's superior handling of city affairs
